Celebrating Catholic Schools Week

At Our Mother of Perpetual Help Catholic School, our educators not only develop young minds, but also prepare children for lives of compassion and service. The Catholic-school tradition is based on the belief that every child is blessed with unique gifts, and every child has unlimited potential regardless of that child's status, race, creed, color, or faith. We don't educate children because they are Catholic, but because we are Catholic fulfilling a mission.

The mission of OMPH Catholic School is to develop the whole child with 21st Century skills while encouraging reverence, respect, and responsibility with Jesus as our center. Our vision is that all students will be empowered to reach their fullest potential as a whole child spiritually, academically, socially, physically, emotionally, and morally by taking an active role in building God's Kingdom on earth. It takes a team to realize our mission and vision and we celebrate the many facets of our team during Catholic Schools Week from January 27th through February 1st.

We begin our week celebration on Sunday, January 27th at the 9:00 AM Mass at Our Mother of Perpetual Help Parish, followed by an Open House and Reception for the school from 10-11 AM. The rest of the week's celebration is as follows:

Monday, January 28th – Celebrating Our Service to Others – Donating and creating care packages for our military service members.

Tuesday, January 29th – Celebrating Our Families – Families will eat lunch with their students.

Wednesday, January 30th – Celebrating Our Students & School Spirit – A school spirit dress-down day with a special treat for students provided by OMPH PTO.

Thursday, January 31st – Celebrating Our Civic Leaders & Service Personnel – Red, White, and Blue Day with a 1:15 PM special program to honor those who serve our community and nation as elected officials, members of the armed services, firefighters, police officers, and first responders.

Friday, February 1st – Celebrating Our Faculty & Staff – 9:00 AM Mass followed by a special blessing of the teachers.

Congratulations!

Congratulations to Eighth Grade students Eddie Dresch, Matt Mercer, and Daniel Titi who earned 1st Place in their region and 1st Place in the Pennsylvania State Level competition in the Fall Competitive session of the Stock Market Game.
